

SNICKERS WORKWEAR ADDS PROTECWORK TO COLLECTION

ProtecWork is a new collection of protective working clothes and accessories from Snickers Workwear, which has developed over 40 years in the industry - and through close consultation with users and employers in the railway and energy sectors around Europe.

The risk-protection properties of the clothing are integral components of the extensive range of base, mid and top-layer garments for men and women that combine well with the Snickers Workwear hallmarks of best-in-class durability, comfort, ergonomics and fit.

Fully accredited as appropriate to a variety of risk and weather conditions such as heat and flame, electrostatic, chemical and bad weather working environments, all the garments are manufactured from tailor-made fabrics designed to respond to the demands and risk factors of the conditions in which they're worn.

With over 60 different garments and accessories to choose from, you can make sure you get the right protection, visibility, flexibility, comfort and durability. Check out the new Snickers ProtecWork range to fit your workday and wellbeing on site.

RRC ADDS NEW IOSH CERTIFICATE TO TRAINING CATALOGUE

RRC a specialist UK-based health, safety and environmental management training provider, is now offering the new IOSH Managing Occupational Health & Wellbeing Certificate.

Health and wellbeing are high profile subjects right now, and form an integral part of occupational health and safety. Awareness of health and wellbeing within the workplace is imperative. The one-day course provides practical advice and tools for managers to help create a healthy and productive place of work.

The benefits for organisations are improved health and wellbeing awareness across the organisation, and fewer hours lost due to ill-health and reduced presenteeism, resulting in greater productivity overall.

This course is suitable for managers and supervisors working in any sector and is available as an in-company course worldwide, with open classroom courses available soon at RRC's London venue.
